Dear Ms. Blanchette:

The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center is once again recognized as the nation's premier institution for cancer care. This accolade rests on a 70-plus year history of placing patients first, a legacy enabled by the excellence of our people and the sustained support of individuals like you. The enclosed progress report from Kelly K. Hunt, M.D., F.A.C.S., of the Department of Surgical Oncology, demonstrates how you are helping us to provide the best possible care of today and to drive the new care paradigm of tomorrow.

Our first-rate, multidisciplinary care represents the dedicated work of scientists, clinicians, support staff, and volunteers. MD Anderson is the premier cancer institution because you have supported us to conduct the most decisive research, deliver the most promising treatments, provide the best public education, offer excellent mentoring to the next generation of scientists, and engage in productive collaborations with professionals around the globe.

Ms. Blanchette, the extraordinary caring and generosity shown by Harley's Angels offers hope to our patients and their loved ones at vulnerable times in their lives.
